Statutory Revision Committee. A state sales and use tax exemption statute (exemption statute) exempts from state sales tax, and through operation of another statute also exempts from local sales taxes, 48% of the purchase price for the initial sale of "factory-built housing" and 100% of the purchase price for any subsequent sale of a "manufactured home" (sales tax exemption). The exemption statute references another statute defining "factory-built housing". In Senate Bill 03-182, however, the general assembly replaced the existing definition of "factory-built housing" with a new definition of "factory-built residential structure", and the statute referenced in the exemption statute actually defines the latter term. The definition of "factory-built residential structure" includes only "structures designed to be installed on a permanent foundation" and therefore arguably limits the sales tax exemption, which had previously clearly applied to structures designed for occupancy in either temporary or permanent locations, to only those structures designed to be installed on permanent foundations.

The bill clarifies the scope of the sales tax exemption by allowing it for "manufactured homes", a term that a specifically referenced statute defines broadly to include homes designed to be installed on either temporary or permanent foundations.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. The general assembly declares that the purpose of this legislation, enacted in 2019, is to effect a nonsubstantive change in statute to clarify the scope of an existing state sales and use tax exemption for manufactured homes. The general assembly further declares that the addition of such clarifying language to the section does not in any way alter the scope or applicability of the statutory section involved.

SECTION 2. In Colorado Revised Statutes, 39-26-721, amend (1) and (2) as follows:
