the department of public safety. The grant program provides grants to assist local law enforcement agencies in gaining access to the information-sharing system created by the Colorado information sharing consortium (CISC). Grant recipients can use the money to pay for computer hardware, software, and programming costs necessary to connect to CISC's information-sharing systems. As a condition of each grant, the grant recipient and CISC are required to ensure that the information systems comply with federal data security requirements, and that the law enforcement data and intelligence information that is shared complies with federal regulations governing the use of criminal justice information systems. The director of the division is required to promulgate rules for the administration of the grant program.

The bill creates the law enforcement, public safety, and criminal justice information sharing grant program fund, and directs the general assembly to appropriate $1.9 million to the fund from the marijuana tax cash fund for the 2019-20 fiscal year.

1 Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

2 SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly
3 hereby finds and declares that:

4 (a) Colorado's law enforcement personnel operate at an 5 information disadvantage that diminishes their safety and increases the 6 likelihood that community members will be mistakenly engaged;

7 (b) Law enforcement personnel interact daily with a wide variety
8 of people, from law-abiding citizens to frequent offenders to individuals 9 suffering from mental health challenges, sometimes without complete or 10 adequate information to determine who presents a risk, who does not 11 present a risk, and who needs mental health services;

12 (c) Law enforcement's information disadvantage can erode public
13 trust when incomplete information leads to inappropriate policing actions.
14 For example, a lack of information can result in an unnecessarily large 15 volume of contacts during an investigation. In addition, a lack of 16 information can lead to misinformation that spawns inaccurate "be on the

1 lookout" notices.

2 (d) This information disadvantage presents issues for law
3 enforcement personnel who are entrusted to uphold public safety while 4 protecting the individual liberties of all people and providing innovative 5 co-responder service models to individuals with mental health challenges;

6 (e) A major contributing factor to this lack of information is that 7 each law enforcement agency often has its own independent
8 records-management systems and cannot efficiently and digitally share 9 information between agencies;

10 (f) In an effort to address this information disparity, more than 11 forty-five of Colorado's largest and busiest law enforcement agencies
12 came together to create the Colorado information sharing consortium
13 (CISC) in 2014 through an intergovernmental agreement;

14 (g) The CISC acts as a facilitator between Colorado law
15 enforcement agencies, providing a means for secure and efficient data 16 sharing. The CISC is governed by a member-elected board of directors, 17 including sheriffs and police chiefs, and has signed up sixty-eight of the 18 three hundred and thirty-three agencies that can employ certified peace
19 officers in Colorado.

20 (h) Information-sharing systems are most effective when they are 21 widely used by state and local law enforcement agencies across the state, 22 creating a robust platform for sharing needed data and information. The 23 more local law enforcement agencies that participate in CISC, the greater 24 the benefit to all of its members and to the public.

25 (2) Therefore, the general assembly declares that it is necessary to 26 create a grant program to provide rural and cash-strapped local law
27 enforcement agencies with one-time grants to allow them join the CISC

1 information-sharing system.

2 SECTION 2. In Colorado Revised Statutes, add 24-33.5-1617 as
