(II) The commission shall not issue more than a total of two hundred credit certificates in one income tax year for all new hires employed by all new businesses in each rural jump-start zone that receive approval as specified in paragraph (a) of this subsection (7) of this section; except that the commission has the discretion to increase this limit to three hundred credit certificates if the new business is in one of the fourteen industries that the commission targets for economic development in the state.

(9) The Colorado office of economic development created in section 24-48.5-101, C.R.S., may make recommendations to the commission regarding any of the commission's duties and responsibilities outlined in this article and may provide staff assistance to the commission, and may assist the commission in administrating the provisions of this article.

by article 22 of this Title 39 on the income derived from its activities in the rural jump-start zone for four consecutive income tax years beginning with the first income tax year designated by the commission in the first credit certificate. The commission shall conduct an annual review to verify that the new business continues to meet the requirements set forth in this article and shall issue a credit certificate to the new business for every income tax year during the four-year period only if the commission is satisfied the requirements are being met.

(II) A new business may seek an extension of the four-year benefits period specified in subparagraph (I) of this paragraph (a) by completing a written application to the commission. The extension may not exceed an additional four years. The application for extension must include an explanation of the new business' need for the extension and any other information the commission deems necessary. In deciding whether to grant the extension, the commission must consider the state of the economy in the rural jump-start zone, the estimated demand for tax credits allowed in this section for other new businesses, and the importance of these credits in incentivizing the new business. The commission shall conduct an annual review to verify that the new hire and the new business continue to meet the requirements set forth in this article and shall issue a credit certificate to the new business for each new hire for every income tax year during the four-year period only if the commission is satisfied the requirements are being met.

The extension may not exceed an additional four years. The application for extension must include an explanation of the new business' need for the extension and any other information the commission deems necessary. In deciding whether to grant the extension, the commission must consider the state of the economy in the rural jump-start zone, the estimated demand for tax credits allowed in this section for other new businesses, and the importance of these credits in incentivizing the new business. The extension application must be considered at a regularly scheduled meeting of the commission where the public is allowed to comment.

(3) New business sales and use tax refund. (a) Each new business is eligible for a refund for all sales and use taxes imposed under parts 1 and 2 of article 26 of this title TITLE 39 on the purchase of all tangible personal property acquired by the new business and used exclusively within the rural jump-start zone. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this subsection (3) SUBSECTION (3)(b) OF THIS SECTION, the new business is eligible for the refund allowed in this paragraph (a) SUBSECTION (3)(a) for four consecutive years beginning with the date the commission approved the new business for the rural jump-start zone program benefits as specified in section 39-30.5-104 (7)(a).

(b) A new business may seek an extension of the four-year period specified in paragraph (a) of this subsection (3) SUBSECTION (3)(a) OF THIS SECTION by completing a written application to the commission. The extension may not exceed an additional four years. The application for extension must include an explanation of the new business' need for the extension and any other information the commission deems necessary. In deciding whether to grant the extension, the commission must consider the state of the economy in the rural jump-start zone, the estimated demand for sales and use tax refunds allowed in this section for other new businesses, and the importance of the refund in incentivizing the new business.
