If this bill passes third reading in the house of introduction, a bill summary that applies to the reengrossed version of this bill will be available at <http://leg.colorado.gov>.)*

The bill requires an online marketplace (marketplace) to require each high-volume third-party seller (seller) selling through its marketplace to disclose to the marketplace, and the marketplace to verify:

- The seller's bank account number;
- The seller's contact information; and
- The seller's business tax identification number or individual taxpayer identification number.

The marketplace also must require the seller to disclose to the consumer the identity of the seller, including:

- The full name of the seller;
- The physical address of the seller;
- Whether the high-volume third-party seller used a different seller to supply the consumer product to the consumer upon purchase; and
- If requested by the purchaser, information relating to any seller that supplied the consumer product to the purchaser, if the seller is different than the high-volume third-party seller listed on the product listing prior to purchase.

The online marketplace must disclose to consumers a reporting mechanism for consumers to report suspicious marketplace activity.

A violation of the disclosure requirements is a deceptive trade practice.
