persons enrolled in certain medicaid waiver programs, including home- and community-based services for the elderly, blind, and disabled; home- and community-based services for persons with intellectual and developmental disabilities; home- and community-based services for persons with major mental health disorders; home- and community-based services for persons with brain injury; and complementary and alternative medicine for a person with a spinal cord injury.

No later than January 2024, the bill requires the department of health care policy and financing to submit a report to specified committees of the general assembly identifying a reimbursement system with a goal to incentivize and increase transportation provider participation.

1 Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

2 SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly
3 finds that:

4 (a) Adults with disabilities deserve an opportunity to live, work, 5 and perform everyday activities in a community of their choice, at the 6 time of their choosing, wherever and whenever possible;

7 (b) Coloradans with disabilities are unemployed and 8 underemployed at a higher rate than the general population and often live 9 in relative isolation due to myriad barriers and disincentives despite their 10 interest and eagerness to work and engage in the community;

11 (c) Colorado is an Employment First state committed to 12 addressing barriers and disincentives to employment to ensure that all 13 Coloradans can access meaningful, competitive integrated employment;

14 (d) Meaningful employment and day habilitation services, whether 15 accessed separately or jointly, foster independence and allow adults with 16 disabilities to make meaningful connections in their community;

17 (e) For adults with disabilities, transportation represents a 18 significant barrier to accessing employment and day habilitation services 19 in the community;

1 (f) Many adults with disabilities are reliant on transportation
2 available through home- and community-based services waivers to gain
3 access to the community, including employment;

4 (g) Traditional methods of transportation outlined in the waivers
5 are often inefficient and overburdened;

6 (h) For the past decade, Colorado, following national trends, has 7 experienced a shortage in direct service providers, including 8 transportation service providers;

9 (i) Even where accessible public transportation exists, adults with 10 disabilities and service providers consider current transportation options 11 inadequate; and

12 (j) Adults with disabilities require workplace and day habilitation
13 transportation that is safe, efficient, and cost effective.

14 (2) The general assembly further finds that many adults with 15 disabilities are reliant on transportation available through the home- and 16 community-based services for the elderly, blind, and disabled waiver; the 17 home- and community-based services for persons with intellectual and 18 developmental disabilities waiver; the home- and community-based 19 services for persons with major mental health disorders waiver; the home-20 and community-based services for persons with brain injury waiver; the 21 home- and community-based supported living services waiver; and the 22 complementary and alternative medicine for a person with a spinal cord 23 injury waiver, to gain access to the community, including employment.

24 (3) Therefore, the general assembly declares that it is imperative
25 that Colorado allow for flexibility and growth in available transportation 26 options for adults with disabilities at comparable costs and funded as an 27 alternative to mass transportation in a way that maintains safety and

1 fosters community living and independence for adults with disabilities.

2 SECTION 2. In Colorado Revised Statutes, 25.5-6-307, add (5)
