Summary of Legislation

This bill restructures and adds two additional members to the Colorado Commission on Aging, appointed by the Governor. In making these changes, it also specifies various criteria for members appointed to the board, establishes initial terms of services for members appointed after the bill's passage, and limits members to serving no more than two consecutive full terms. The commission is authorized to contract independent staff and to seek, accept, and expend gifts, grants, and donations.

In addition, the bill establishes a liaison in the Department of Human Services (DHS) to work with the commission and creates a Technical Advisory Committee composed of representatives from multiple state agencies to support the commission's work. Finally, the bill creates the Lifelong Colorado Initiative to support policy evaluation, data and metrics creation, and a reporting mechanism.

State Revenue

The bill potentially increases state revenue to the commission from gifts, grants, or donations; however, no sources have been identified at this time. Gifts, grants, and donations are exempt from TABOR revenue limits.

State Expenditures

The bill increases state agency workload in several ways. First, the DHS will have additional work for the new liaison to interact with the commission and for department staff to support the various initiatives, reports, and duties under the bill. This work aligns closely with current responsibilities in the DHS, and it is assumed that these duties can be accomplished within existing appropriations.

In addition, the Governor's Office will have additional workload to appoint members to the commission in line with the bill's new requirements. Various state agencies will have additional workload for staff to serve on the Technical Advisory Committee. This workload in the Governor's Office and other state agencies is assumed to be minimal and no change in appropriations is required.

Effective Date

The bill takes effect upon signature of the Governor or upon becoming law without his signature.
