Final Reading
April 26, 2023

1 1998 when the Italian Supreme Court ruled that a rape conviction would 2 be overturned because the justices felt that since the victim was wearing 3 tight jeans, she must have helped her rapist remove her jeans, thereby 4 implying consent; and

5 WHEREAS, The following day, women in the Italian Parliament
6 came to work wearing jeans to show their solidarity with the victim and 7 the following year, Peace Over Violence ignited the Denim Day
8 campaign in Los Angeles and encouraged participants to wear jeans in 9 protest against attitudes condoning sexual assault; and

10 WHEREAS, Since 2013, the Colorado Coalition Against Sexual 11 Assault (CCASA), which serves as the collective voice of sexual assault 12 survivors and service providers in public policy initiatives, education, 13 training, and collaborative efforts, has hosted Colorado Denim Day; and

14 WHEREAS, In the last 10 years, CCASA has worked with the 15 Colorado General Assembly to pass 14 laws that provide protections and 16 support for survivors of sexual assault; and

17 WHEREAS, More than 100 organizations have received training 18 and technical assistance through CCASA to support survivors; and

19 WHEREAS, CCASA continues to raise awareness around
20 reporting options, survivor rights, and advocate resources through its You 21 Have the Right Campaign; and

22 WHEREAS, The You Have the Right Campaign is available in 23 English and Spanish and will soon be available in Chinese, Arabic, and 24 Japanese; and

25 WHEREAS, Support services for survivors and advocates continue
26 to require translation resources to serve the 17% of Colorado's population 27 that speak a language other than English; and

28 WHEREAS, Rural counties are home to 13% of Colorado's
29 population, and survivors often point to lack of transportation as a barrier 30 to receiving services; and

31 WHEREAS, More resources around translation and transportation
32 are needed to provide equitable access to services and further address 33 sexual violence in Colorado; and

1           WHEREAS, Current efforts to make services more accessible to 2 all Coloradans demonstrate the Colorado General Assembly's dedication 3 to advancing protections for survivors; and

4           WHEREAS, Continued action is needed to further expand support 5 services throughout the state so that we can continue doing what we do 6 in denim; and

7           WHEREAS, Recognizing Sexual Assault Awareness Month and 8 Denim Day and bringing attention to the ongoing effort to put an end to 9 sexual violence remain critically important; now, therefore,
