Summary of Legislation

The bill prohibits written rental agreements from including the following provisions:

- a waiver of the right to a jury trial;
- a waiver of the ability to bring, join, litigate, or support collective claims and actions;
- a waiver of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing;
- a waiver of the implied covenant of quiet enjoyment
- a provision that purports to affix fees, damages, or penalties for tenants' failure to provide notice of nonrenewal of a rental agreement;
- a provision that defines any amount or fee other than the set monthly payment for occupancy, including utilities and service charges, as "rent," and would allow landlords to collect such fees through rental collection remedies, including eviction; and
- a provision that requires tenants to pay for a service billed to landlords by third-party in an amount greater than what the third-party bills landlords;

The bill applies to agreements executed on or after the effective date.

State Revenue and Expenditures

The bill primarily impacts contracts between private parties. To the extent that disputes arise, state revenue and workload may increase for the Judicial Department as a result of increased civil case filings with the trial courts; however, high compliance with the provisions of the bill is assumed, so any revenue and workload increase would be minimal.

Local Government

Similar to the state, Denver County Court may have an increase in revenue and workload to the extent that additional cases are filed.

Effective Date

The bill takes effect 90 days following adjournment of the General Assembly sine die, assuming no referendum petition is filed.
