HOUSE
Amended 2nd Reading
April 25, 2024

On July 1, 2024, the bill requires a one-time $3.8 million transfer from the general fund to the regional talent development initiative grant program fund to address workforce shortages in infrastructure and building trades. Of this amount, not more than 7% may be used for the administrative costs incurred to administer the regional talent development initiative grant program.

The regional talent summit grant program (grant program) is created and is to be administered by the governor's office of economic development and international trade (office). The grant program, through a selection committee, will award grants to and contract with a program facilitator to develop regional summits across the state. The program facilitator will understand workforce development needs in identified regions of the state, generate a landscape analysis for each identified region that includes job projections and an overview of educational pathways, gather insight from employers about critical workforce and training needs, create regional goals for addressing talent needs, and develop comprehensive tactical plans. Beginning January 1, 2026, any modified or new local workforce development plan must incorporate the tactical plans. The program facilitator must complete all regional talent summits on or before July 1, 2025, and submit workforce plans as a result of the regional talent summits by December 1, 2025.

The grant program, through a selection committee, will also award grants to one or more regional hosts to secure facilities to host regional talent summits, determine community partners to attend the summits, and gather insight from regional employers about critical workforce and training needs.

The regional talent summit development initiative grant program fund (fund) is created in the state treasury. On July 1, 2024, the state treasurer shall transfer $200,000 from the general fund to the fund. The money in the fund is continuously appropriated to the office.

The bill establishes a state income tax credit (tax credit) for the costs of facility improvement and equipment acquisition associated with training programs designed to alleviate workforce shortages beginning January 1, 2026. A qualified taxpayer in a qualified industry may earn a tax credit equal to up to 50% of the costs incurred by the qualified taxpayer to improve its facilities and acquire equipment. The tax credit is refundable and may not be carried forward.

To claim the tax credit, a qualified taxpayer must first reserve the tax credit by applying to be in the evaluation pool established by the office. A selection committee will consider the merits of each application to determine which taxpayers are qualified to reserve the tax credit. If a taxpayer is qualified and approved, the taxpayer is required to incur facility improvements and equipment acquisition costs to claim the tax credit. If the applicant submits evidence that the costs were incurred during the income tax year for which the applicant applied, and those costs are certified by a certified public accountant, the applicant may be awarded a tax credit. The aggregate amount of tax credits reserved in one calendar year cannot exceed $15 million.

The executive director of the department of revenue may require a person or organization not subject to tax or a person or organization exempt from taxes to make and file a return containing information prescribed by the executive director to claim the tax credit.

1 Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

2 SECTION 1. Legislative Declaration. (1) The general assembly
3 hereby finds and declares that:

4 (a) House Bill 22-1350, enacted in 2022, established the regional 5 talent development initiative act to invest in regional partnerships that 6 encourage workforce development and respond to regional talent needs.
7 The grant program, opportunity now, granted twenty-seven million
8 dollars to forty-six grantees and created over two hundred thirty industry
9 and educational partnerships with the first round of funding. The second 10 and third rounds of investment demonstrate Colorado's ongoing 11 commitment to innovation, regional planning, economic development, 12 and collaboration.

13 (b) However, Colorado continues to experience workforce
14 shortages due to the mismatch of jobs available and the skilled talent 15 needed to fill them. This challenge is heightened by recent federal 16 investment in programs like the federal "Infrastructure Investment and 17 Jobs Act", Pub.L. 117-58, the federal "Inflation Reduction Act of 2022",
18 Pub.L. 117-169, and the federal "CHIPS and Science Act of 2022", 19 Pub.L. 117-167, which create additional demands for skilled talent.

20 (c) Data shows that Colorado currently needs thirty-three thousand 21 five hundred infrastructure and construction workers, and is projected to

1 need an additional fifty thousand construction workers by the end of the 2 decade, including an additional twenty thousand clean energy
3 construction jobs. Colorado is projected to need six thousand ninety-eight 4 construction laborers alone to respond to "Infrastructure Investment and 5 Jobs Act" project needs.

6 (d) More skilled talent in infrastructure, advanced manufacturing, 7 and clean energy is needed for Colorado to take full advantage of federal 8 investments and achieve Colorado's ambitious housing, climate, 9 broadband, and infrastructure goals. By investing an additional round of 10 general fund funding into the opportunity now program, with a focus on 11 infrastructure and building trades, Colorado makes an important 12 investment in the workforce needed to build more housing now.

13 (e) Expanding the opportunity now program with a refundable tax
14 credit expands the scope of this work for years to come. This refundable 15 tax credit will support qualified applicants in increasing their training 16 capacity and capabilities so that Colorado has the workforce needed to 17 respond to federal investments as they break ground and achieve 18 statewide priorities.

19 (f) The workforce shortage tax credit is intended to continue the 20 opportunity now program by seeding investments that benefit the 21 education and training system broadly;

22 (g) The regional talent summit grant program is also created to 23 affirm Colorado's collaborative, locally-driven, and state-supported 24 approach to regional talent planning. These summits will allow for 25 industry, business associations, community-based organizations, talent
26 development practitioners, local workforce centers, local education 27 providers, institutions of higher education, and state agencies to identify

1 the workforce needs and resources of their areas. By seeding new 2 partnerships to develop shared workforce and economic development
3 goals, these summits will allow Colorado's regions to plan for and 4 leverage local and state resources to achieve them.

5 (2) Therefore, the regional talent summit grant program and the 6 workforce shortage tax credit are important tools for Colorado to address 7 the need for talent acquisition and retention.
