101 CONCERNING MEMORIALIZING SENATOR FAITH WINTER.

1 WHEREAS, Faith Winter, our beloved colleague, passed away on 2 November 26, 2025; and

3 WHEREAS, A native, fifth-generation Coloradan, Senator Winter
4 attended Littleton High School and the University of Redlands; and

5 WHEREAS, That she would end up in the state legislature
6 working on transportation and climate issues surprised few who knew her 7 as a young organizer. She interned with the Colorado Environmental 8 Coalition and trained with the Green Corps, eventually serving as 9 National Program Director for EnviroCitizen, a sustainability focused 10 initiative, and program director for Colorado Conservation Voters, which 11 works to protect the state's climate and advance environmental justice;
12 and

1 WHEREAS, Senator Winter was elected to the Westminster City
2 Council in 2007; often the youngest woman and mom at the City
3 Council's dias, she would spend her entire career opening doors and 4 pulling out chairs for women, ensuring that they had a seat at the same 5 table; and

6 WHEREAS, Senator Winter represented the people of Adams
7 County in the Colorado House of Representatives from 2015 through 8 2019 and the people of Adams, Broomfield, and Weld Counties in the 9 Colorado Senate from 2019 until her death; and

10 WHEREAS, A mentor and champion of women, throughout 11 convention halls and at community centers and kitchen counters and with 12 organizations like the White House Project, Emerge Colorado, and Vote 13 Run Lead, Senator Winter encouraged women to take the microphone and 14 then the ballot, training many future leaders to run for office; but her 15 support didn't stop there: As a Progressive Governance Academy trainer, 16 she shared her time and seemingly boundless energy to assist newly 17 elected leaders across the country; and

18 WHEREAS, Named one of Governing Magazine's public officials 19 of the year in 2018 and one of 5280 Magazine's disrupters changing the 20 local political landscape in 2019, while Senator Winter was often 21 recognized for her individual contributions, she always worked to shine 22 the light on others -- "we lift as we rise" was her mantra; and

23 WHEREAS, One of her most important legacies, the "Paid Family
24 and Medical Leave Insurance Act", came to fruition in 2020. Senator 25 Winter's advocacy and legislative work helped pave the way for the 26 successful initiative. She spent years "losing forward", as she called it:
27 When she would introduce a bill, she knew that, even though it might not 28 pass, its defeat would give organizers more time to build the coalition and 29 refine the policy; and

30 WHEREAS, But more than 200 of Senator Winter's bills did pass.
31 In 2021, she was a Senate prime sponsor of House Bill 21-1266, the 32 "Environmental Justice Act", which strengthened regulations on 33 greenhouse gas emissions and centered communities disproportionately
34 impacted by pollution; the next year, Senate bills she sponsored instituted 35 "free fares for clean air" on public transportation throughout the state and 36 created the rural health-care workforce initiative to financially support

1 students in the health-care field so they could practice in, and better serve,
2 the people of rural Colorado; and

3 WHEREAS, Senator Winter worked with her colleagues across the 4 aisle to pass bipartisan bills on conservation easements, protection orders
5 for crime victims and affordable housing programs for victims of abuse, 6 soil health, and ballot access for candidates with disabilities; and

7 WHEREAS, During her ten sessions under the dome, Senator
8 Winter chaired the Transportation and Energy Committees in the Senate
9 and the House, vice-chaired the House Business Affairs and Labor 10 Committee and the Senate Health and Human Services Committee, and 11 served on many more, including Legislative Council, the Transportation
12 Legislation Review Committee, and the Colorado Youth Advisory 13 Council Committee; and

14 WHEREAS, A longtime supporter of animal rights and former 15 board member of Broomfield's Butterfly Pavilion, Senator Winter brought 16 a special guest, the Pavilion's Rosie the Tarantula, to the Senate floor
17 several years in a row; Queso, one of her four beloved dogs, could often 18 be seen roaming the second floor, sometimes in a tuxedo; and

19 WHEREAS, As caring as she was driven, the small stick of 20 dynamite tattooed on Senator Winter's arm was a fitting metaphor for her 21 spark, her potential, and the transformative power she wielded in order to 22 make a lasting impact on, and to improve the lives of, every person in the 23 state; and

24 WHEREAS, She fought, often in flip flops, for Coloradans to 25 breathe cleaner air and to spend more time with their families; she cared 26 about and ran bills to help coal workers, working moms, and eating 27 disorder patients; to empower legislative aides and tenants; to protect 28 transgender people; and to make sure high school students had access to 29 menstrual products. She was bold and resilient, grounded and persistent;

31 WHEREAS, Colorado is a better place because of a little girl who 32 was grateful for "waterfalls and rainbows" and who grew up to dedicate 33 her life to public service, helping to protect those precious resources as 34 she championed renewable energy, electric vehicles, and public 35 transportation; now, therefore,
