services a component of mental health treatment and ongoing clinical support. The bill authorizes a court to include, in an order regarding the custody of the defendant and the defendant's bond status, a requirement for the defendant to participate in mental health treatment.

After an individual has been discharged from the facility where the individual was held for an emergency mental health hold, current law requires the facility to attempt to follow up with the individual at least 48 hours after discharge. The bill extends the time to attempt to follow up with the individual to 72 hours.

The behavioral health administration (BHA) shall only issue or renew a license for a behavioral health entity if the BHA receives a certificate of compliance for the applicant's building or structure from the division of fire prevention and control. The bill adds the following exceptions to this requirement:

- An applicant that provides only telehealth services is not required to receive a certificate of compliance; and
- An applicant that provides only outpatient services may receive a certificate of compliance from a fire department that employs a certified inspector rather than from the division of fire prevention and control.
