population management mandates, including, if certain measures must be in effect, actions taken by the department and the documented impact of implementing the required measures.

When the prison bed vacancy rate in correctional facilities and state-funded private contract prisons falls below 3% for 30 consecutive days, current law requires the department to notify certain individuals and entities (notification) and implement prison population management measures. The bill includes additional individuals and entities that are required to receive the notification and requires the notification to occur within 48 hours of the vacancy rate falling below 3% for 30 consecutive days. The bill requires the individuals and entities that receive the notification to acknowledge receipt of the notification and confirm compliance with the prison population management measures.

The bill includes additional prison population management measures, including measures to:

- Transition certain inmates from a community corrections program to nonresidential status, require the division of adult parole to notify community parole officers of the prison bed shortage and consider alternate sanctions for technical violations, and identify potential alternative placements for transition inmates at risk of being regressed back to prison from a community corrections program;
- Grant certain inmates who are within 120 days of their mandatory release date or statutory discharge date with an additional 60 days of earned time;
- Finalize an inmate's release within 7 days of the department finding the inmate was granted conditional release by the parole board and satisfied the specific conditions prior to the release; and
- Identify eligible inmates who are past their parole eligibility date and review each application for parole on an expedited basis.

If the prison population management measures are in effect, the bill encourages certain individuals and entities that received the notification to consider an alternative to a prison sentence, if lawfully available, for cases pending sentencing or resentencing.

1 Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

2 SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly
3 finds that:

4 (a) States across the country have enacted prison population

1 management measures that recognize that overcrowded prison facilities
2 are a threat to the health and safety of staff and inmates;

3 (b) It is universally recognized that ensuring systematic and
4 operational efficiencies can effectively manage prison populations
5 without compromising public safety;

6 (c) In 2018, the Colorado general assembly unanimously adopted
7 prison population management measures that trigger specific actions
8 when the department of corrections' prison bed vacancy rate falls below
9 a specified level for 30 consecutive days;

10 (d) On August 16, 2025, the department of corrections' prison bed
11 vacancy rate fell to a level that triggered the prison population
12 management measures for the first time; and

13 (e) The implementation of current prison population management
14 measures has not made an impact on prison overcrowding in Colorado.
15 There is limited data available to assess the reasons for this lack of impact 16 since there is no data reporting required by state law on the 17 implementation of the mandated prison population management
18 measures. However, there is clearly the potential for impact because 19 reliable data indicates that a significant number of inmates are eligible for 20 placement in the community through community corrections boards, and 21 roughly 4,600 inmates are past their parole eligibility date.

22 (2) Therefore, the general assembly declares that revising
23 Colorado's existing prison population management measures is necessary
24 in order to address operational inefficiencies, obtain necessary data, and 25 increase transparency and accountability, and that the efficient
26 management of prison populations is a matter of ongoing concern for 27 correctional staff and inmates.
