Summary of Legislation

Senate Bill 25-014 repealed a provision of law that stated certain marriage formality requirements do not invalidate an otherwise valid common law marriage. This bill reinstates that previously repealed statutory provision to not invalidate valid common law marriages. Specifically, if two people had a valid common law marriage prior to September 1, 2006, it remains valid. If they entered into a common law marriage on or after September 1, 2006, it remains valid as long as it meets the current legal requirements in statute.

Background

The Statutory Revision Committee is charged with examining statutes of state and judicial decisions for the purpose of discovering defects and anachronisms in the law and recommending needed reforms.

Assessment of No Fiscal Impact

This bill reinstates a previously repealed statutory provision clarifying the validity of common law marriages. It does not create new legal rights, or impose new requirements on state or local government entities. For this reason, the bill is assessed as having no fiscal impact.

Effective Date

This bill was signed into law by the Governor and took effect on May 5, 2026.
