103 MANAGEMENT AGENCIES' NORMAL BUDGETS.

1 WHEREAS, There are about 24 million acres of forests and 2 woodlands in Colorado, of which more than two-thirds are managed by 3 the federal government; and

4 WHEREAS, Colorado's forests are increasingly susceptible to 5 forest fires, with an average of about 40,000 acres burned per year from 6 2004 through 2007 but an average of more than 140,000 acres burned per

1 or extreme risk from wildfires of any state in the nation; and

2 WHEREAS, Under current federal law, money that was originally 3 budgeted to mitigate fire risk, protect and restore watersheds, increase 4 forest health, promote recreational opportunities, and conduct necessary
5 forest planning is diverted to fight fires once the amount budgeted for fire 6 fighting has been depleted; and

7 WHEREAS, The United States Forest Service spent only 16% of 8 its annual budget on fire suppression and response in 1995, but recently 9 announced that in 2015, for the first time, it will spend more than half its 10 budget to fight wildfires, and by 2025 it expects to spend 67% of its 11 budget on that task; and

12 WHEREAS, A 2013 study by Headwaters Economics showed that 13 in the 1990s, average federal spending to suppress wildfires was less than 14 $1 billion annually, but, since 2002, federal spending has risen to over $3 15 billion annually and costs are still rising; and

16 WHEREAS, Paying for catastrophic wildfire response should not 17 come at the expense of programs that reduce the risk of wildfires because 18 doing so plainly creates a feedback loop that increases the frequency and 19 severity of catastrophic wildfires; and

20 WHEREAS, Congress is currently considering several measures
21 that would create alternative ways to pay for catastrophic wildfire 22 response costs; now, therefore,

23 Be It Resolved by the Senate of the Seventy-first General Assembly
24 of the State of Colorado, the House concurring herein:

25 That Congress should enact laws necessary to protect federal land
26 management agencies' ability to mitigate the risk of catastrophic wildfires
27 and manage the lands within their jurisdiction by funding catastrophic 28 wildfire response in a manner analogous to that used for natural disasters.

29 Be It Further Resolved, That copies of this Joint Memorial be sent 30 to Governor John Hickenlooper, each member of Colorado's
31 congressional delegation, the Western Governor's Association, Secretary
32 of Agriculture Tom Vilsack, and Secretary of the Interior Sally Jewell.
