Bill Summary

(Note: This summary applies to this bill as introduced and does not reflect any amendments that may be subsequently adopted. If this bill passes third reading in the house of introduction, a bill summary that applies to the reengrossed version of this bill will be available at <http://leg.colorado.gov>.)

Current law distributes, to the extent available, the first $3 million of the lottery fund to the outdoor equity fund, the next $3 million to the public school capital construction assistance fund, and any remaining money as follows:

- 25% to the wildlife cash fund;
- 25% to the parks and outdoor recreation cash fund; and
- 50% to the public school capital construction assistance fund.

For the 2024-25 state fiscal year and each state fiscal year thereafter, the bill redistributes, to the extent available, the first $3 million of the lottery fund to the outdoor equity fund, the next $4 million to the public school capital construction assistance fund, and any remaining money as follows:

- 10% to the wildlife cash fund;
- 10% to the parks and outdoor recreation cash fund;
- 30% to the outdoor equity fund; and
- 50% to the public school capital construction assistance fund.

1 Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

2 SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly
3 finds and declares that:

4 (a) Since its creation, the outdoor equity grant program,
5 administered by the outdoor equity board in the division of parks and 6 wildlife, has provided a total of $8.5 million to support meaningful 7 outdoor experiences for Colorado youth of color, LGBTQ+ youth, 8 low-income youth, indigenous youth, rural youth, and youth with 9 disabilities. These transformative experiences have allowed individuals 10 to discover and cherish the beauty of our state through environmental

1 education, experiential learning, stewardship programming, and more.
2 Through December 2024, this investment has supported more than 65,000
3 Colorado youth and families in experiencing the positive impact of the 4 great outdoors.

5 (b) The demand for the outdoor equity grant program reflects a
6 deep and growing need for opportunities that connect Colorado's
7 underserved youth to the outdoors. In 2023, hundreds of organizations 8 across the state put forward meaningful projects to empower youth 9 through outdoor experiences, but the program could only support a small 10 fraction of them due to limited funding. In 2024, the outdoor equity grant 11 program board received 263 grant proposals with a total ask of $21
12 million dollars.

13 (c) This pattern has repeated year after year, with the 14 overwhelming majority of thoughtful and impactful applications going 15 unfunded. Despite the program's success in transforming lives, only 14%
16 of eligible applications have received support so far. The demand for this 17 program is a testament to its importance, but it also highlights how much 18 more could be done to ensure every young person in Colorado has the 19 chance to experience the outdoors and the life-changing opportunities it 20 provides.

21 (d) Public school capital construction assistance grant requests to 22 address health and safety needs in school buildings vastly outnumber
23 available grant funds every year. Increased funds for the public school 24 capital construction assistance fund will help meet more of those 25 qualified requests. These funds also generate local matching dollars for 26 public school facility projects and are local economic drivers, with more 27 than 17 direct and indirect jobs created or supported for every $1 million

1 invested in building excellent schools today (BEST) grant program
2 schools.

3 (e) Increased investment in public school capital construction
4 assistance grants ensures that more public school facilities can be 5 renovated or rebuilt to meet modern safety and accessibility standards,
6 creating healthier learning environments and fostering long-term
7 educational success for Colorado's students; and

8 (f) The general assembly has the opportunity to reallocate existing 9 resources to support more of these critical programs without any new 10 funding.

11 (2) Therefore, the general assembly declares that by prioritizing 12 the outdoor equity grant program within our current budget, we can 13 expand access to transformative outdoor experiences for Colorado's 14 underserved youth, ensuring that more young people benefit from the 15 life-changing impact of nature.
