CONCERNING REGIONAL TALENT DEVELOPMENT INITIATIVES, AND, IN CONNECTION THEREWITH, CREATING THE REGIONAL TALENT SUMMIT GRANT PROGRAM AND AN INCOME TAX CREDIT FOR FACILITY IMPROVEMENT AND EQUIPMENT ACQUISITION COSTS ASSOCIATED WITH TRAINING PROGRAMS DESIGNED TO ALLEVIATE WORKFORCE SHORTAGES AND MAKING AN APPROPRIATION.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(a) House Bill 22-1350, enacted in 2022, established the regional talent development initiative act to invest in regional partnerships that encourage workforce development and respond to regional talent needs. The grant program, opportunity now, granted twenty-seven million dollars to forty-six grantees and created over two hundred thirty industry and educational partnerships with the first round of funding. The second and third rounds of investment demonstrate Colorado's ongoing commitment to innovation, regional planning, economic development, and collaboration.

(b) However, Colorado continues to experience workforce shortages due to the mismatch of jobs available and the skilled talent needed to fill them. This challenge is heightened by recent federal investment in programs like the federal "Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act", Pub.L. 117-58, the federal "Inflation Reduction Act of 2022", Pub.L. 117-169, and the federal "CHIPS and Science Act of 2022", Pub.L. 117-167, which create additional demands for skilled talent.

(c) Data shows that Colorado currently needs thirty-three thousand five hundred infrastructure and construction workers, and is projected to need an additional fifty thousand construction workers by the end of the decade, including an additional twenty thousand clean energy construction jobs. Colorado is projected to need six thousand ninety-eight construction laborers alone to respond to "Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act" project needs.

(d) More skilled talent in infrastructure, advanced manufacturing, and clean energy is needed for Colorado to take full advantage of federal investments and achieve Colorado's ambitious housing, climate, broadband, and infrastructure goals. By investing an additional round of general fund funding into the opportunity now program, with a focus on infrastructure and building trades, Colorado makes an important investment in the workforce needed to build more housing now.

(e) Expanding the opportunity now program with a refundable tax credit expands the scope of this work for years to come. This refundable tax credit will support qualified applicants in increasing their training capacity and capabilities so that Colorado has the workforce needed to respond to federal investments as they break ground and achieve statewide priorities.

(f) The workforce shortage tax credit is intended to continue the opportunity now program by seeding investments that benefit the education and training system broadly;

(g) The regional talent summit grant program is also created to affirm Colorado's collaborative, locally-driven, and state-supported approach to regional talent planning. These summits will allow for industry, business associations, community-based organizations, talent development practitioners, local workforce centers, local education providers, institutions of higher education, and state agencies to identify the workforce needs and resources of their areas. By seeding new partnerships to develop shared workforce and economic development goals, these summits will allow Colorado's regions to plan for and leverage local and state resources to achieve them.

(2) Therefore, the regional talent summit grant program and the workforce shortage tax credit are important tools for Colorado to address the need for talent acquisition and retention.
