A BILL FOR AN ACT

CONCERNING SUICIDE PREVENTION TRAINING IN SCHOOLS.

Bill Summary

(Note: This summary applies to this bill as introduced and does not reflect any amendments that may be subsequently adopted. If this bill passes third reading in the house of introduction, a bill summary that applies to the reengrossed version of this bill will be available at http://leg.colorado.gov.)

The bill creates the crisis and suicide prevention training grant program (grant program) in the department of public health and environment (department). The purpose of the grant program is to provide financial assistance to schools in providing crisis and suicide prevention training to schools, with priority given to those schools that have previously not received such training. The grant program may authorize up to $400,000 in grants per year in varying amounts. The office of suicide prevention and the school safety resource center shall work collaboratively with the department to develop guidelines and criteria for the grant program. Grant recipients are required to report on their activities using grant money.

The crisis and suicide prevention training grant program fund is created and authorized to accept appropriations from the general assembly, as well as gifts, grants, and donations.

The bill makes conforming amendments that authorize the existing office of suicide prevention in statute.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly finds and declares that:

(a) A recent report from the National Center for Health Statistics found that the suicide rate among youth between the ages of fifteen and nineteen who live in rural counties is nearly double the suicide rate among the same age group who live in larger, more urban counties;

(b) Suicide is the leading cause of death for young people in Colorado;

(c) A 2012 report of the U.S. surgeon general and the National Action Alliance for Suicide Prevention included the following goals and objectives as part of effective suicide prevention and crisis response training:

(I) To the extent possible, integrate suicide and crisis prevention programs into the culture, leadership, and work of a broad range of existing organizations and programs, when available, with a role to support suicide and crisis prevention activities;

(II) Provide crisis prevention and response training so all school personnel can look for warning signs and work collaboratively and successfully through a crisis situation in the school;

(III) Educate all school personnel, including administrative, front office, cafeteria and lunch room personnel, counselors, nurses, custodians, teachers, coaches, and others to increase knowledge of the warning signs of suicidal thoughts and behaviors and how to connect individuals in crisis with assistance, as well as work through and diffuse crisis situations safely for all involved; and

(IV) Schools should implement programs and policies that discourage abuse, bullying, violence, and social exclusion and build social connectedness and promote positive mental and emotional health. Schools should have a plan to ensure that students have access to mental health and counseling service resources and to train, on an annual basis, all relevant school staff to recognize warning signs of suicidal behavior or of a crisis situation.

(d) The recommendations of the Colorado suicide prevention commission for youth and public safety include supporting schools in implementing comprehensive protocols, including training all staff, and providing evidence-based programming focused on enhancing protective factors for youth; and

(e) According to the 2015 Healthy Kids Colorado Survey, nearly eighteen percent of Colorado high school students reported considering suicide, with nearly eight percent making one or more suicide attempts in the previous twelve months.

(2) The general assembly therefore declares that crisis and youth suicide prevention training is a matter of statewide concern, and it is in the best interests of the children and youth of the state of Colorado to ensure that all teachers and staff at every Colorado school, school district, and charter school are provided comprehensive suicide prevention and crisis response training.
