Summary of Legislation

The state allows a refundable, transferable income tax credit for purchasers and lessees of innovative passenger vehicles and trucks, including for example vehicles powered by electricity, natural gas, and hydrogen. Under current law, the amount of credit available for each purchaser or lessee is scheduled to be reduced in 2020, further reduced in 2021, and unavailable beginning in 2022. This bill modifies the income tax credit for electric and plug-in hybrid electric passenger vehicles and trucks only by increasing the amount of the tax credit available in 2021 and extending the credit for tax years 2022 through 2025.

Table 2 presents the value of the tax credit by tax year for purchases of each electric and plug-in hybrid electric vehicle under current law and HB 19-1159. Table 3 presents the same information for leased vehicles.

State Revenue

The bill is expected to decrease General Fund revenue for FY 2020-21 through FY 2025-26 by the amounts shown in Table 4. The estimate for FY 2020-21 reflects a half-year impact for the increased credit made available in tax year 2021. The estimate for FY 2021-22 reflects a half-year impact for the increased credit in tax year 2021 and a half-year impact for the extended tax credit in tax year 2022. The estimate for FY 2025-26 reflects a half-year impact for the extended tax credit in tax year 2025. Estimates for the other years reflect full-year impacts of the extended credit. The bill reduces income tax revenue, which is subject to TABOR.

Assumptions. Under current law, electric and plug-in hybrid electric vehicles are estimated to account for 85 percent of the 3,064 credits allowed for tax year 2016 based on national vehicle sale statistics reported by the U.S. Department of Energy. Based on historical trends reported by the Department of Revenue, the number of qualifying purchases and leases is assumed to grow 10.5 percent annually through 2025. Within the number of qualifying purchases and leases, the shares of passenger vehicles and trucks of each weight class are assumed to remain constant. Current law credits are expected to average $2,840 in tax year 2021. Credits claimed under the bill are expected to average $4,544 in tax years 2021 and 2022, and $2,840 in tax years 2023 through 2025.

To the extent that electric and plug-in hybrid electric vehicle sales grow more or less quickly than in prior years, the decrease in General Fund revenue will be greater than or less than estimated.

State Expenditures

The bill increases General Fund expenditures for the Department of Revenue by $62,459 and 0.9 FTE in FY 2021-22 and $118,334 and 1.7 FTE in FY 2022-23 and subsequent years. Expenditures are expected to continue through FY 2025-26. These costs are summarized in Table 5 and explained below.

Table 5
Expenditures Under HB 19-1159

	FY 2021-22	FY 2022-23
Department of Revenue
Personal Services	$43,781	$83,023
Operating Expenses	$855	$1,615
Centrally Appropriated Costs*	$17,823	$33,696
Total Cost	$62,459	$118,334
Total FTE	0.9 FTE	1.7 FTE

* Centrally appropriated costs are not included in the bill's appropriation.

Tax administration. The bill requires that 0.9 FTE in FY 2021-22 and 1.7 FTE in FY 2022-23 and subsequent fiscal years be retained in the Department of Revenue's Taxpayer Service Division. Under current law, retention of these staff would not be required as workload would decrease in these years upon expiration of the innovative motor vehicle credit. Staff are required to verify and process tax returns that claim the credit and interact with taxpayers who file incorrectly or raise questions with the department. Expenditures for FY 2021-22 reflect a half-year impact for the extension of the credit into tax year 2022.

Centrally appropriated costs. Pursuant to a Joint Budget Committee policy, certain costs associated with this bill are addressed through the annual budget process and centrally appropriated in the Long Bill or supplemental appropriations bills, rather than in this bill. These costs, which include employee insurance, supplemental employee retirement payments, and leased space, are estimated to be $17,823 in FY 2021-22 and $33,696 in FY 2022-23.

TABOR refunds. The bill is expected to decrease state revenue subject to TABOR for years beyond the current forecast period as shown in Table 4, potentially decreasing the General Fund obligation for TABOR refunds in these years.

Effective Date

The bill takes effect August 2, 2019, if the General Assembly adjourns on May 3, 2019, as scheduled, and no referendum petition is filed.
