Summary of Legislation

For the purposes of state law prohibiting discrimination on the basis of race in the context of public education, employment, housing, public accommodation, and advertising, the bill specifies that race includes hair texture, hair type, and protective hairstyles that are commonly or historically associated with race, such as braids, locs, twists, corn rows, tight coils or curls, Bantu knots, Afros, and headwraps. The bill also specifies that school districts and charter schools may not apply to the State Board of Education for a waiver from state laws related to discrimination based on hair texture, type, or protective hairstyles commonly or historically associated with race.

State Revenue

To the extent that the bill increases the number of civil cases filed, state revenue from filing fees will increase. Any increase is expected to be minimal. Revenue from filing fees is subject to TABOR.

State Expenditures

Beginning in FY 2020-21, the bill increases state workload by a minimal amount for the following state agencies:

- the trial courts in the Judicial Department to handle any additional civil claims alleging discrimination;

- the Department of Personnel and Administration to handle any additional cases of state employees challenging employment decisions;
- the Department of Law to handle any additional cases brought against the state; and
- the Department of Regulatory Agencies to handle any additional complaints brought to the Civil Rights Division.

The fiscal note assumes that the state and other entities will abide by the law; as a result, any increase is expected to be minimal and does not require a change in appropriations.

TABOR refunds. To the extent the bill increases state revenue, the bill increases state General Fund obligations for TABOR refunds by a minimal amount in FY 2020-21 and FY 2021-22.

Local Government

To the extent that cases are brought against local government entities, costs and workload will increase. The fiscal note assumes that these entities will abide by the law; as a result, any increase is expected to be minimal.

Effective Date

The bill takes effect August 5, 2020, if the General Assembly adjourns on May 6, 2020, as scheduled, and no referendum petition is filed, and applies to conduct occurring on or after that date.
