This bill allows a person to sell, without licensure, certain animals or animal shares to informed end consumers without regulation or inspection by a public health agency. It will minimally increase workload in FY 2021-22 only.

Appropriation Summary: No appropriation is required.

Fiscal Note Status: The fiscal note reflects the introduced bill.

Summary of Legislation

This bill allows a person to sell, without licensure, meat, animals, or shares of cattle, calves, sheep, poultry, hogs, rabbits, and fish to an informed end consumer for future delivery without regulation or inspection by a public health agency if the following conditions are met.

- the seller gives the consumer a document or conspicuously displays a disclaimer regarding the animal's exemption from state regulation and inspection;
- the sale does not involve interstate commerce; and
- the meat, animal or animal share is sold in Colorado and delivered directly to the end consumer.

Animals are still subject to brand inspection by the Colorado Department of Agriculture (CDA) but only one inspection is required and all purchasers must be reflected on the certificate of brand inspection. The State Board of Stock Inspection Commissioners is required to promulgate rules to implement this process.

Resale of an animal or animal share by the consumer is prohibited by the bill and the seller is not liable in a civil action for damages caused by inadequate cooking or improper preparation for consumption.

State Expenditures

The CDA will have a minimal one-time increase in workload for the State Board of Stock Inspection Commissioners to promulgate rules. This increase can be accomplished within existing appropriations.

Effective Date

The bill takes effect upon signature of the Governor, or upon becoming law without his signature.
