Under current law, a business entity submits to the secretary of state for online filing documents that concern the creation, organization, and operations of the entity. secretary of state files the document in an online database as a ministerial act and does not independently verify whether the document is accurate.

The bill creates a complaint process for a person whose business identity or personal identifying information has been used in the filing of these documents with the secretary of state without authority or for fraudulent activity. If a complaint is submitted with the secretary of state, the secretary may forward the complaint to the attorney general for further investigation. The attorney general may investigate the complaint and refer the complaint to an administrative law judge.

If an administrative law judge determines that an entity has been created fraudulently or without authorization, the secretary of state will:

- Mark the business record with a notice that the entity is fraudulent or unauthorized;
- Redact each address that was used without authorization from the entity's filing and from any other relevant filings; and
- Disable additional filing functionality on the entity's records.

If an administrative law judge determines that an unauthorized filing was made for a legitimate entity, the secretary of state will:

- Mark each unauthorized filing for the entity to notify the public that the filing is unauthorized;
- Redact from the entity's filing and from the relevant filings each address and name that was used without authorization; and
- Mark the business record on the entity's filing to notify the public that the entity has been the victim of fraudulent or unauthorized acts.

If a person alleged to have committed fraud or unauthorized acts fails to respond to the complaint, the allegations are deemed conceded, and the secretary of state will take the appropriate steps listed above in the same manner as if the finding had been made by an administrative law judge.

Additionally, the bill states that fraudulent filings are unfair or deceptive trade practices under the "Colorado Consumer Protection Act" and as such are subject to enforcement by the attorney general's office.
