Summary of Legislation

When a unit owner in a homeowners' association (HOA) is delinquent in paying their HOA assessment, the bill establishes required notification procedures and limitations that dictate how the HOA may pursue recovering the assessment, including the methods and types of information to be disclosed and limits on late fees and interest it may charge. Once the procedures have been completed, the HOA may attempt to recover delinquent payments and appropriate costs in small claims court, up to certain limits. The bill also requires HOAs to perform a reconciliation of all reserve accounts when performing a reserve study, and make the information available to all unit owners.

State and Local Government Expenditures

HOAs are registered with the HOA Information and Resource Center in the Department of Regulatory Agencies. Workload may increase for the center to respond to questions from HOAs regarding the bill. This workload is expected to be minimal and no change in appropriations is required.

Any workload impact on the trial courts, for both county courts within the state court system and Denver County Court, funded and operated by the City and County of Denver, is assumed to be minimal.

Effective Date

The bill was signed into law by the Governor on June 3, 2022, and takes effect on August 9, 2022, assuming no referendum petition is filed, and applies to conduct occurring on or after this date.
