- case reviews annually;
- Communicate with relevant department divisions regarding investigations in cases involving missing or murdered Indigenous relatives;
- Review sentencing ranges for crimes relating to missing or murdered Indigenous relatives;
- Develop, publicize, and offer training for victim advocates who work on missing or murdered Indigenous relatives cases; and
- Designate one employee of the office to serve as a point of contact for families in need of support regarding ongoing or completed missing or murdered Indigenous relatives cases.

The bill grants office personnel access to relevant criminal justice records and medical, coroner, and laboratory records in the custody of state or local agencies that are necessary for the office to perform its duties. The bill permits the office to seek, accept, and expend gifts, grants, or donations in order to carry out the office's duties and to provide financial support to missing or murdered Indigenous relatives' families.

The bill requires the community volunteer advisory board within the office (advisory board) to prepare an annual report that includes a summary of the advisory board's work during the prior year, issues related to missing or murdered Indigenous relatives, and a recommendation of whether the office should remain in the department. The advisory board is required to submit its report to the judiciary and state affairs committees of the house of representatives and the senate.
