Under current law, counties are permitted to form a local collaborative management program to provide services to youth. The bill requires every county to participate in a local collaborative management program and requires the local collaborative management program to serve children 10 to 12 years of age and to form a service and support team to create service and support plans for children 10 to 12 years of age.

The bill provides an appropriation for local collaborative management programs and requires the department of human services to provide technical assistance to the programs.

The bill changes the minimum age of a child who is subject to the juvenile court's jurisdiction. Under current law, children who are 10 years of age or older can be prosecuted in juvenile court. The bill removes children who are 10 to 12 years of age from the juvenile court's jurisdiction and increases the age for prosecution in juvenile court to 13 years of age; except in the case of a homicide, then the juvenile court's jurisdiction extends to children who are 10 to 12 years of age.

The bill clarifies that children who are 10 to 12 years of age may be taken into temporary custody by law enforcement for safety.

The bill provides that when children who are 10 to 12 years of age have contact with law enforcement, law enforcement will complete a form to refer the child to the local collaborative management program. The local collaborative management program's individualized service and support team is required to complete an initial plan for every child who is referred, which may find that no services are needed, that one or more specific services are needed and can be provided without an individualized service and support team meeting, or that an individualized service and support team meeting is required to develop a service and support plan for the child and family. Victims have the right to be informed and provide input to the plan.

The individualized service and support team is required to hold a meeting and develop an individualized service and support plan for every child who is 10 to 12 years of age who allegedly engaged in behavior that would constitute a crime of violence or felony sex offense. The county department of human or social services is required to attend the meeting if the behavior would constitute a felony sex offense. The county department of human or social services is required to make a determination as to whether the department of human services will provide prevention and intervention services or conduct a formal assessment, investigate, provide services, or open a case.

The bill clarifies that victims of actions by children who are 10 to 12 years of age are still able to access existing victim services and compensation. The bill provides that victims shall receive a free copy of the form completed by law enforcement, which can be used to request victim's compensation.

The bill provides that a minor child, or a parent or guardian seeking relief on behalf of a minor child, shall not pay a fee to seek a protection order. Courts that issue protection orders shall provide assistance to individuals in completing judicial forms to obtain a protection order. The bill changes the minimum age that a person can be held in custody for contempt of court for failing to comply with a protection order to a person who is 13 years of age. A child who is 10 to 12 years of age who fails to comply with a protection order may be court ordered to participate in a collaborative management program.

The bill changes the minimum age of a county court's concurrent original jurisdiction with the district court in criminal actions that constitute misdemeanors or petty offenses to 13 years of age.

The bill changes the minimum age to be charged by a municipal court for a municipal offense to 13 years of age.

Under current law, a juvenile court may transfer a child to district court for adult criminal proceedings under certain conditions. The bill eliminates the ability for the juvenile court to transfer children who are 12 or 13 years of age to the district court. For a child who is 14 years of age or older, the bill changes the current authority of the juvenile court to transfer the child's case for any delinquent act that constitutes any felony to only any delinquent act that constitutes a class 1 or class 2 felony or a crime of violence.

The bill extends certain sentencing protections that are currently provided to children who are 10 or 11 years of age to children who are 13 or 14 years of age.

1 Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

2 SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly
3 finds and declares that:

4 (a) Providing developmentally appropriate services to young
5 children to address the underlying causes of problematic behaviors
6 prevents future youth misbehavior, thereby reducing recidivism in both 7 adolescence and adulthood, which leads to safer communities;

8 (b) Behavioral health programs, schools, child welfare services,
9 and other community-based programs and services are better equipped 10 than the juvenile justice system to identify and address the needs of young 11 children and to provide developmentally appropriate services to improve 12 community safety and reduce the risk that young children commit future
13 crimes as adults;

1 (c) Ensuring that young children are served outside of the juvenile 2 justice system reduces the negative impacts for young children and their 3 communities. Young children who are charged with crimes and placed in 4 the juvenile justice system, as compared to similarly situated young 5 children who are served outside of the juvenile justice system, are more 6 likely to enter the criminal justice system as adults, present a future threat 7 to community safety, face mental health challenges, and are less likely to 8 graduate from high school.

9 (d) Colorado has an existing system of local collaborative
10 management programs that can be improved to ensure young children 11 receive appropriate services outside of the juvenile justice system, which 12 will improve outcomes for young children and make communities safer;

13 (e) Serving young children through local collaborative 14 management programs reduces future victimization. Young children in 15 the juvenile justice system are at a higher risk of becoming victims of 16 violence within the justice system.

17 (f) A community-based alternative to serve young children is more 18 equitable. Young children of color are more likely to be referred to the 19 juvenile justice system and detained in juvenile justice facilities than 20 White young children.

21 (g) Victims and survivors of criminal behavior must be able to 22 access services, compensation, and information to gain a new sense of 23 safety. In serving young children through more effective 24 community-based solutions, victim services must remain available to 25 meet these needs.

26 (h) Victims and survivors have the right to be treated with dignity 27 and respect and to be heard and kept informed, regardless of whether the

1 act committed against them was committed by a young child. These rights 2 must remain intact through more effective community-based solutions.

3 (2) (a) Therefore, the general assembly declares its intent to 4 empower community-based responses in the health, education, and child 5 welfare systems to serve children who are under thirteen years of age, 6 instead of the juvenile justice system.

7 (b) The general assembly further supports victims being heard,
8 informed, and supported through the community-based system.

9 (c) The general assembly further declares the prosecution of 10 children under the age of thirteen in municipal courts is a matter of 11 statewide concern because there is need for statewide uniformity in the 12 prosecution and treatment of young children, a municipal regulation that 13 allowed such prosecution would have a negative impact on children and 14 families living outside the municipality, and uniformity fulfills the state's 15 statutory obligation to serve children according to the Colorado children's 16 code.

14 subsection (5) fails, without good cause, to appear, the court may issue an 15 order for the person to show cause to the court as to why the person 16 should not be held in contempt. Following a show cause hearing, the 24 juvenile's parent, guardian, or legal custodian that, if the juvenile is 25 placed in detention or a temporary holding facility, all parties have a right 26 to a prompt hearing to determine whether the juvenile is to be detained 27 further. Such notification may be made to a person with whom the
