<input type="checkbox"/> State Revenue	<input type="checkbox"/> State Transfer	<input type="checkbox"/> Local Government
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> State Expenditure	<input type="checkbox"/> TABOR Refund	<input type="checkbox"/> Statutory Public Entity

The bill allows CASA volunteers to work with youth aged 18 to 21. The bill minimally increases state workload on an ongoing basis.

Appropriation Summary: No appropriation is required.

Fiscal Note Status: This final fiscal note reflects the enacted bill.

Summary of Legislation

The bill allows a court-appointed special advocate (CASA) to provide independent and objective information about children and youth, instead of just children. Under current law, youth is defined as someone under the age of 21.

Background

CASA volunteers may be appointed by a court for any action under titles 14, 15, and 19 when the court finds it is in the interest of a child to have a volunteer appointed. House Bill 21-1094 created the Foster Youth in Transition Program, which allowed eligible youth ages 18 to 21 to continue to receive foster care services on a voluntary basis.

State Expenditures

By adding youth to the definition of CASAs, the bill allows CASAs to be involved in cases with youth aged 18 to 21. While adding more cases where CASA volunteers may be involved will increase workload in the Judicial Department to process more documents and to add more volunteers to the case management system, this workload can be accomplished within existing resources. For context, there were 206 foster youth in transition cases in FY 2021-22 and 277 cases in FY 2022-23.

Effective Date

The bill was signed into law by the Governor on May 24, 2024, and takes effect on August 7, 2024, assuming no referendum petition is filed.
