Bill Summary

(Note: This summary applies to this bill as introduced and does not reflect any amendments that may be subsequently adopted. If this bill passes third reading in the house of introduction, a bill summary that applies to the reengrossed version of this bill will be available at <http://leg.colorado.gov>.)

The bill establishes a grant program to distribute money to encourage a pet animal facility, a pet animal rescue, and a spay and neuter organization located in Colorado (animal welfare facility) to trap, neuter, and return to its habitat a free-roaming domestic cat that may have a caretaker and is not socialized to humans (community cat). The adopt a shelter pet account in the pet overpopulation fund (account) provides the funding for the grant program. The Colorado pet overpopulation authority (authority) will award the grants pursuant to the direction of the authority's board of directors (board).

A prospective grantee may only apply for a grant biannually and may not receive money in consecutive years. The authority must not favor a particular animal welfare facility's business model over another when awarding grants. A pet animal facility must be licensed and in good standing with the department of agriculture and located in Colorado to be eligible for a grant. At least 20% of the money annually awarded for all grants from the account must be for trap-neuter-return program grants. A trap-neuter-return grantee may spend grant money only on:

- Trapping, sterilizing, vaccinating, and ear-tipping community cats in Colorado;
- Veterinary care for the treatment and sterilization of community cats in Colorado;
- Education and outreach to promote public awareness of trap-neuter-return programs in Colorado and to encourage community participation;
- Training for community cat caretakers and animal control personnel in humane trapping and trap-neuter-return protocols in Colorado; and
- For an animal welfare facility that is a spay and neuter organization, veterinary materials and support for mobile clinics in Colorado.

The bill changes the composition of the board and the qualifications required to be on the board. The board member who represents the general public must not also be on the board of any animal welfare organization, and no board member may be from the same trade or industry group as another board member. The bill adds to the board a representative of No Kill Colorado or any successor organization and a representative of a spay and neuter organization.

The board must annually publish on the pet overpopulation fund website the name of each grantee receiving money from the pet overpopulation fund, the amount of each grant provided to a grantee, when a grantee received a grant, and the names of each board member.

The bill specifies that 70% of all grants awarded money from the pet overpopulation fund must be used for animal welfare facilities that are headquartered and located in a Colorado county with a population of 200,000 or less.

1 Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

2           SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly
3 finds and declares that:

4           (a) The pet overpopulation fund has provided funding for grants

1 and programs that have decreased the overpopulation of Colorado's pets;

2 (b) The pet overpopulation fund is overseen by the Colorado pet
3 overpopulation authority, which is an entity not subject to administration
4 by the state government, except for the appointment of its members by the 5 commissioner of agriculture;

6 (c) The adopt a shelter pet account in the pet overpopulation fund
7 receives money donated through the sale of the adopt a shelter pet license
8 plate to be used for spaying and neutering animals in animal shelters and 9 rescues and to support overpopulation education programs;

10 (d) The allocation of money in the adopt a shelter pet account is 11 lacking in transparency and the public should have knowledge of the 12 allocation of the money;

13 (e) Colorado should not favor one shelter model or ideology over
14 another in shelter and rescue operations because all shelter and rescue
15 operations work to place pets in adoptive homes, save animal lives, work
16 in tandem with municipalities and counties, assist in the reduction of pet
17 overpopulation, and are licensed pursuant to the pet animal care facility
18 act;

19 (f) More than eighty percent of Americans support nonlethal
20 solutions like spay and neuter programs and trap-neuter-return programs
21 for managing pet and community cat populations;

22 (g) Community cats have historically faced high euthanasia rates
23 in animal shelters due to a lack of a human address and socialization;

24 (h) Trap-neuter-return is a proven humane method to manage
25 community cat populations, reduce the number of impounded community
26 cats, and decrease nuisance complaints;

27 (i) The use of trap-neuter-return programs leads to healthier, more

1 manageable community cat populations while saving taxpayer money and
2 resources;

3 (j) Colorado rural communities receive proportionately less
4 funding from the adopt a shelter pet account than urban communities and 5 have a great need for resources; and

6 (k) The implementation of trap-neuter-return programs in
7 Colorado's rural communities is crucial because services are often lacking
8 and community cat populations are expanding.

9 (2) Therefore, the general assembly further finds and declares that 10 there is a need to address the state's community cat population and that it
11 is appropriate to use money in the adopt a shelter pet account of the 12 Colorado pet overpopulation fund to support the sterilization and 13 vaccination of community cats.
