Summary of Legislation

The bill continues the Wildlife Habitat Stamp Program, and the Wildlife Habitat Stamp Committee, indefinitely. The program is managed by Colorado Parks and Wildlife (CPW) in the Department of Natural Resources. The program and committee are currently set to repeal on July 1, 2027, following a sunset review by the Department of Regulatory Agencies. The bill also eliminates the scheduled sunset review.

Background

The Wildlife Habitat Stamp Program provides funding for CPW efforts to work with private landowners, local governments, and conservation organizations to protect fish and wildlife habitat. The funding comes from CPW's habitat stamp sales, which must be purchased in order to buy a hunting or fishing license. For the 2024-25 license season, a single stamp costs $10.59 and a lifetime stamp costs $318.08. The program currently generates an average of $7.9 million in habitat stamp fee revenue annually for CPW.

The Colorado Wildlife Habitat Stamp Committee reviews proposed projects for expenditure of Habitat Stamp funds and makes recommendations to the Director of CPW and the Parks and Wildlife Commission.

State Revenue and Expenditures

The bill indefinitely continues approximately $7.9 million in revenue and expenditures by CPW from the Wildlife Cash Fund beginning in FY 2027-28. Revenue to the Wildlife Cash Fund is not subject to TABOR. These revenue and expenditures will end in FY 2026-27 under current law.

The bill also minimally decreases workload in the Department of Regulatory Agencies from eliminating the scheduled sunset review of the program and committee. No adjustment to appropriations is required from this change.

Effective Date

The bill takes effect 90 days following adjournment of the General Assembly sine die, assuming no referendum petition is filed.
