We are pleased to present the annual Budget in Brief, which includes financial facts and other information about Colorado government agencies and programs. The purpose of this booklet is to answer some of the most frequently asked questions about the state budget. More detailed information regarding state funding decisions made during the 2009 legislative regular session is available in the Fiscal Year 2009-10 Appropriations Report.

We hope you find this Budget in Brief helpful. We would appreciate any feedback regarding the format, the information included, and suggestions for future editions.

Sincerely,

John A. Ziegler
Staff Director

GLOSSARY

Capital Construction Fund: Fund into which General Fund and Lottery Fund transfers for capital construction purposes are deposited. This fund is used to build, renovate, and repair state buildings, to purchase major equipment, and to acquire land. Appropriations from this fund are exempt from the provisions of Article X, Section 20 of the Colorado Constitution, also known as the Taxpayers Bill of Rights (TABOR), because they authorize expenditures from a reserve.

Cash Funds: Separate funds set up to receive earmarked revenues, such as fees and fines. These funds typically pay for the programs for which the revenues are collected. Examples are the Wildlife Cash Fund and the Disabled Telephone Users Fund.

Federal Funds: Funds received from the federal government. Some federal funds are grants for limited purposes. Other federal funds support ongoing state-federal programs and may require state matching funds. Examples of programs requiring a state match are Medicaid and highway construction. Federal funds are exempt from the provisions of TABOR.

FTE: Full-time equivalent (one position filled all year).

General Fund: Fund into which general tax revenues, such as state sales and income taxes, are deposited. The General Fund is used to pay, in whole or in part, for state programs that benefit the majority of state citizens, such as education and corrections.

General Fund Exempt: TABOR places restrictions on the amount of total General Fund and cash funds that can be collected, and consequently spent, by the State. Certain General Fund revenues are exempt from these provisions. There are currently two sources of General Fund Exempt revenues. First, tobacco tax revenues received pursuant to Article X, Section 21 of the Colorado Constitution and deposited into the General Fund are counted as General Fund Exempt. Second, in November 2005, voters approved Referendum C, which authorizes the State to retain and spend money in excess of the TABOR limitations for five years. These moneys must be deposited in the General Fund Exempt Account and be appropriated for health care, education, retirement plans for firefighters and police officers, and strategic transportation projects.

General Fund moneys exempt from the statutory restrictions on General Fund appropriations: Prior to FY 2009-10, Section 24-75-201.1, C.R.S., restricted the annual General Fund appropriations to the lesser of five percent of state personal income or six percent over the total General Fund appropriations of the previous fiscal year. Senate Bill 09-228 amended Section 24-75-201.1, C.R.S., so that starting with FY 2009-10 and each fiscal year thereafter, the total State General Fund appropriations are restricted to an amount equal to five percent of Colorado personal income. There are three specified exemptions to these restrictions: appropriations due to federal law requiring a new program or service or an increase in the level of service for an existing program; those due to a state or federal court order requiring a new program or service or increase in the level of service for an existing program; and those funded from an increase in taxes or fees approved by voters. For more information, see Appendix H of the FY 2009-10 Appropriations Report.

Long Bill: Colorado's annual general appropriations act.

Reappropriated Funds: Reappropriated funds is a classification of fund source that was adopted beginning in FY 2008-09. Reappropriated funds are any amounts that are appropriated a second or more times subsequent to an initial appropriation in the same fiscal year. For example, funding may be initially appropriated to a department as General Fund, cash funds, or federal funds, then transferred to another department for the payment of services. In the recipient agency's Long Bill appropriation, this transfer would be shown as reappropriated funds.

Referendum C: Colorado voters adopted a measure popularly known as Referendum C in the general election in 2005. This measure allows the State to retain all General Fund revenues in excess of the limits imposed by TABOR (Article X Section 20 of the Colorado Constitution) between July 1, 2005 and July 1, 2010. Revenues retained under this provision are classified as General Fund Exempt. Referendum C effectively suspends the revenue retention provisions of TABOR as applied to the state government for five years. General Fund Exempt moneys are required to be appropriated or transferred by the General Assembly for the following purposes only: (a) health care; (b) education, including capital construction projects related thereto; (c) retirement plans for firefighters and police officers, if the General Assembly determines such funding is needed; and (d) strategic transportation projects.

Taxpayer's Bill of Rights (TABOR): Colorado voters adopted a citizen-initiated amendment to the Colorado Constitution known as the Taxpayer's Bill of Rights (TABOR, Article X, Section 20) in 1992. The amendment restricts state and local governments' ability to increase revenues without voter approval, and thereby generally serves to limit spending by those governments. Under TABOR, a vote of the people is required for the state or any local government to: (a) increase tax rates; (b) increase retained revenues by more than the sum of inflation and the percentage population growth; (c) incur multi-year debt; or (d) weaken other limits on revenue. The amendment requires that collected revenue in excess of the inflation plus population growth limit be refunded to the voters in the following fiscal year. In November 2005 voters passed Referendum C, which temporarily suspends the TABOR limits on retained revenue for the state government.
