MHDCJS

Task Force
Concerning the Treatment of Individuals with
Mental Health
Disorders in the Criminal Justice
System (MHDCJS)

MHDCJS History

The MHDCJS Advisory Task Force and Legislative Oversight Committee first met in the summer of 1999, with the charge of broadly studying the complex issues leading to increasing numbers of individuals with behavioral health disorders in the criminal justice system. In the 20 years since, the MHDCJS task force has undertaken hours of study and stakeholder engagement to prepare annual recommendations to the oversight committee aimed at systematically dismantling the complex problems that fuel these trends. Beyond legislative recommendations, the task force has engaged in interagency research projects, securing funding and completing grant applications, providing technical assistance to state agencies and other implementors, and engaging in the policy process. Through the years, the task force has experienced a variance in resources and capacity to meet the changing charges it has been directed with. In its history, the MHDCJS structure was reauthorized several times including in 2004, 2009 and 2014. The current statutes are set to repeal on July 1, 2020.
