TITLE 3

UNITED STATES

JURISDICTION

ARTICLE 1

Property Ceded to United States

3-1-101. Consent to acquisition of lands by United States. The consent of this state is hereby given to the purchase by the United States of such ground in the city of Denver, or any other city or incorporated town in this state, as its authorities may select, for the accommodation of the United States circuit and district courts, post offices, land offices, mints, or other government offices in said cities or incorporated towns, and also to the purchase by the United States of such other lands within this state as its authorities may from time to time select for the erection of forts, magazines, arsenals, and other needful buildings.

3-1-102. Consent to acquire land - when notice required - directive to the attorney general. (1) Except as provided in this section, the consent of the state of Colorado is hereby given, in accordance with section 8 (17) of article I of the constitution of the United States, to the acquisition by the United States, by purchase, condemnation, or otherwise, of any land in the state required for custom houses, courthouses, post offices, arsenals, or other buildings whatever, or for any other proper purpose of the United States government; except that consent is not hereby given to the acquisition of, or exclusive jurisdiction over, land sought by the United States department of defense for purposes associated with the expansion of the Piñon Canyon maneuver site. However, before any privately owned land in the state is acquired for any purpose other than for public highways, custom houses, courthouses, post offices, arsenals, or other governmental buildings, the United States shall give written notice of intention to acquire the land to the board of county commissioners of the county wherein the land is situated and to the division of property taxation, which notice shall be given at least sixty days prior to the date of the intended acquisition. If the notice is not given or if the board of county commissioners or the division files with the secretary of state of the state of Colorado within the sixty-day period a request that the acquisition be considered by the general assembly of the state of Colorado, then the consent of the state of Colorado shall not be deemed to have been given to the acquisition unless and until the general assembly of the state of Colorado shall have by law specifically consented thereto.

(2) The attorney general of the state of Colorado shall oppose any attempt by the United States department of defense or other unit of federal government to acquire by any means, including purchase or condemnation, state lands for which consent to acquire has been withdrawn pursuant to this section for the expansion of the Piñon Canyon maneuver site pursuant to subsection (1) of this section and section 36-1-123.5, C.R.S. Such opposition shall be made a priority by the attorney general and, whenever feasible, take precedence over any other matters.

(a) The Pueblo depot activity development authority, created in 1994 by the general assembly, focused on the redevelopment of the United States Army Pueblo chemical depot to support job creation and economic growth;

(b) The United States department of defense formally recognized the Pueblo depot activity development authority as the local development authority in 1995;

(c) In 2013, over fifteen thousand acres of land of the United States Army Pueblo chemical depot was deemed surplus federal property and the Pueblo depot activity development authority officially changed their name to PuebloPlex;

(d) In order to fully utilize the surplus land, the general assembly must establish concurrent legislative jurisdiction with the federal government by the governor formally accepting this jurisdiction from the secretary of the Army; and

(e) The concurrent legislative jurisdiction seeks to avoid jurisdictional confusion and ensure emergency and police services are offered and available for the redevelopment of PuebloPlex.

(2) (a) The state of Colorado hereby accepts the relinquishment of exclusive legislative jurisdiction from the United States over the real property comprising the United States Army Pueblo chemical depot. The state of Colorado shall have concurrent legislative jurisdiction with the United States over the property indicated in this subsection (2)(a) for as long as the United States owns the property.

(b) The concurrent legislative jurisdiction created by this section over the property indicated in subsection (2)(a) of this section shall take effect upon acceptance by the governor of a notice filed by the secretary of the Army pursuant to 10 U.S.C. sec. 2683 relinquishing exclusive legislative jurisdiction and retaining concurrent legislative jurisdiction over the property. The governor shall notify the revisor of statutes in writing, by e-mail sent to revisorofstatutes.ga@coleg.gov, of the date of acceptance of the notice.

(c) The state shall not incur or assume any liability as a result of accepting concurrent legislative jurisdiction pursuant to this subsection (2).

(3) Upon request by the United States through its appropriate officials, the governor is authorized to execute the appropriate documents to accomplish the cession granted by subsection (2) of this section.

3-3-106. United States military installations - concurrent jurisdiction - legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly declares that the purpose of the concurrent legislative jurisdiction established by this section is to avoid confusion and ensure that law enforcement services are available on United States military installation property located in Colorado.

(2) (a) The state of Colorado hereby accepts the relinquishment of exclusive legislative jurisdiction from the United States pursuant to this section. The state of Colorado has concurrent legislative jurisdiction with the United States over the United States military installation property indicated pursuant to this section for as long as the United States controls the property.

(b) The concurrent legislative jurisdiction over the United States military installation property pursuant to this section is effective upon the governor's written acceptance of a request filed by the principal officer, or an authorized representative of the United States who has supervision or control over the property pursuant to 10 U.S.C. sec. 2683, of the property where concurrent legislative jurisdiction is sought, relinquishing exclusive legislative jurisdiction and retaining concurrent legislative jurisdiction over the property.

(c) The governor shall not accept a request filed pursuant to subsection (2)(b) of this section unless the request:

(I) States the name, position, and legal authority of the person requesting the cession;

(II) Unambiguously states the matter for which concurrent legislative jurisdiction is requested;

(III) Describes by metes and bounds the United States military installation property subject to the concurrent legislative jurisdiction request; and

(IV) Indicates whether the request includes future contiguous expansions of land acquired for military purposes.

(d) If the governor accepts a request pursuant to this section, the governor's written acceptance must state the elements of the request that are accepted.

(e) If the governor accepts a request pursuant to this section, the governor shall submit the following documents to the appropriate recording offices in the state for indexing and submit copies of the following documents to the person who requested concurrent legislative jurisdiction:

(I) The United States' request for concurrent legislative jurisdiction;

(II) The governor's written acceptance of concurrent legislative jurisdiction; and

(III) A description by metes and bounds of the United States military installation property subject to the concurrent legislative jurisdiction.

(3) Upon request by the United States through an authorized representative, the governor is authorized to execute appropriate documents to accomplish the cession granted by this section.

(4) The state must not incur or assume any liability as a result of accepting concurrent legislative jurisdiction pursuant to this section.

(5) Upon the establishment of concurrent legislative jurisdiction pursuant to this section, a state agency, local government, or district may enter into a reciprocal agreement with a United States agency to designate duties related to the concurrent legislative jurisdiction between the parties.
