We hereby submit our comments to you regarding the appended proposed initiatives.

The purpose of this statutory requirement of the directors of Legislative Council and the Office of Legislative Legal Services is to provide comments intended to aid proponents in determining the language of their proposals and to avail the public of knowledge of the contents of the proposals. Substantive Comments and Questions

The substance of the proposed initiatives raise the following comments and questions:

1. Article V, section 1 (5.5) of the Colorado constitution requires all proposed initiatives to have a single subject. What is the single subject of each of the proposed initiatives?
2. The following comments and questions relate to the provisions concerning reporting of election results which is subsection (5) in the section that adds a constitutional section to article VII concerning "Top Four General Elections" in proposed initiatives 2023-2024 ##118, 120, 122, 124, 127, 129, and 131 and is also in subsection (3) in the section that adds a constitutional section to article VII concerning "Presidential General Elections" in proposed initiatives 2023-2024 ##122, 124, 129, and 131:

- a. Regarding the requirements that the processing and counting of mail ballots begin upon receipt and that every ballot received before election day be counted by election day:
 - i. Is this requirement only applicable to ballots that include candidates to be elected via instant runoff voting? Or does it apply to all ballots received on election day regardless of substance?
 - ii. If the requirement is only applicable to ballots that include candidates to be elected via instant runoff voting, does the proposed initiative in effect apply these requirements to the election returns for all elections? Do you anticipate that designated election officials would first count the races that were conducted via instant runoff voting and then go back to count other races that were not conducted via instant runoff voting?
 - iii. Is requiring that every ballot received before election day be counted by election day different from how such ballots are currently counted? If so, will it be feasible for local governments to implement this change?
 - b. How is the reporting of results of tabulation for the instant runoff different from the way election results are currently reported?
3. The following comments and questions relate to the two sections that make statutory changes to sections 1-4-801 and 1-4-802, C.R.S., which are in proposed initiatives 2023-2024 ##119, 120, 123, 124, 128, and 129:
- a. How do the amendments proposed to these two sections relate to the single subject of the proposed initiatives 2023-2024 ##119, 120, 123, 124, 128, and 129?
 - b. Regarding changes to section 1-4-801, C.R.S.:
 - i. Why is the required amount of petition signors reduced by half for petitions for candidates for a member of the United States house of representatives, a member of the state board of education for a congressional district, a member of the board of regents of the University of Colorado for a congressional district, a member of the General Assembly, the offices of governor, United States senator, secretary of state, attorney general, state treasurer, and of an at-large seat on either the state board of education or the board of regents of the university of Colorado?

- ii. Why do the proposed initiatives not make changes to the requirements for petitions for a candidate for any county office, any district office greater than a county office, or the office of district attorney?
- iii. Due to the amendments in the proposed initiatives, is an amendment required to section 1-4-801 (4), C.R.S., which states "No person who attempted and failed to receive at least ten percent of the votes for the nomination of a political party assembly for a particular office shall be placed in nomination by petition on behalf of the political party for the same office."?

c. Regarding changes to section 1-4-802, C.R.S.:

- i. Why is the required amount of petition signors reduced by half for petitions for candidates for the offices of governor, secretary of state, attorney general, treasurer, United States senator, the office of an at-large seat on either the state board of education or the board of regents of the university of Colorado, for the offices of member of the United States house of representatives, member of the state board of education for a congressional district, or member of the board of regents of the university of Colorado for a congressional district, office of member of the state senate, and office of member of the state house of representatives?
- ii. Why do the proposed initiatives not make changes to the requirements for petitions for a candidate for the office of president and vice president, office of district attorney, and any county office?

Technical Comments

The following comments address technical issues raised by the form of the proposed initiatives. These comments will be read aloud at the public meeting only if the proponents so request. You will have the opportunity to ask questions about these comments at the review and comment meeting. Please consider revising the proposed initiative as suggested below.

1. The proposed initiatives all appear to have a non-statutory legislative declaration. In the case of non-statutory legislative declarations, the language does not need to be shown in small caps but rather can be in regular capitalization. Additionally, introductory portions and subsections of a non-statutory legislative declaration may be shown as numerals or letters instead of bullet points. Here is an example of correct statutory organization, which can also be applied to non-statutory legislative declarations:

X-X-XXXX. Headnote. (1) Subsection.

(a) Paragraph

(I) Subparagraph

(A) Sub-subparagraph

(B) Sub-subparagraph

(II) Subparagraph

(b) Paragraph

(2) Subsection

(3) Subsection

2. Section numbers and headnotes of added provisions do not need to be in small caps. Additionally, only the first word in a headnote needs to be capitalized. For example, "SECTION 13. CANDIDATE ACCESS TO PRIMARY ELECTION BALLOT." can be revised to "Section 13. Candidate access to primary election ballot.".
3. The text of last section in each proposed initiative with the effective date provision does not need to be in small caps.
4. Where it appears in the Constitution or statute, the word "section" does not need to be capitalized.
