

According to the Department of Revenue Retailers remitted 2,561,900,000 in state sales tax last year. If my industry holds true 85% of all transactions are done by credit and debit cards then that means 2,177,615,000 in sales tax was processed to the consumer through electronic forms of payment. Averaging interchange rates at 2.5% means merchants on top of the processing and remittance costs, also incurred 54,440,375 in costs for collecting state tax.

(1) Except as otherwise provided in sections 24-19.5-103 (3) and 29-11.5-103 (3), C.R.S., no seller or lessor in any sales or lease transaction or any company issuing credit or charge cards may impose a surcharge on a holder who elects to use a credit or charge card in lieu of payment by cash, check, or similar means.
