

Good Morning To the Members of the Colorado Legislature

My name is Scott Carlisle. I live in Ouray County.

We are all Americans here and it matters not on which side of the aisle each of us stand.

Each of us citizens, here today, is living proof of the dedication our previous generations chose in putting our well-being ahead of their own. Today I ask you to remember their gifts of freedom that we all are now enjoying.

Today, with all the debt created and power grabbing by the Federal government and career politicians, We the People must choose to change the course of the actions of our federal government.

Today, I humbly request that you adopt the Convention of the States Resolution, which is in front of you, so all of our children and grandchildren can live as freely as we have!

The most obvious need for the adoption of this Resolution, at this point in time, is to return states' rights to defend and protect their citizens. This can only happen if the Federal government is required to honor the 10th Amendment.

With the current insane printing of money, the complete lack of fiscal responsibility demonstrated by the Federal government, and the lack of budgets being passed (only 4 have been passed in the last 40 years), it is crystal clear that We the People need this Convention of the States to help us clean-up the national mess that's been created by the Federal government.

When you vote to pass the resolution for Convention of the States' Articles, you as an American, as a representative of the people, as a neighbor, a father or mother, or a grandparent will be demonstrating your love of country and the respect for all that has been given to you as an American citizen.

I pray that you will stand on your sacred honor, just as our Founding Fathers did, to uphold the sworn Oath you've taken to protect and defend the Constitution, with your vote to convene the Convention of the States to debate and resolve the issues we have before us, as a nation.

You sit here before God and country, with an historical opportunity to protect and defend this greatest nation on earth, by voting yes to convening this Convention of the States.

May God bless each of you and may God continue to bless the United States of America.

Thank you for the time you've invested in listening to me. I am a proud, God-fearing American, who honors the gift of our American freedoms. It has been an honor to speak with all of you.

Scott Carlisle
Ouray County, CO
970-497-9498

April 22, 2024