Faye Barnhart Against themselves	You're just not caring if you don't spend more money, right? What if you're not caring if you spend the money, because you're stealing it from hardworking taxpayers who also have families to feed and medical bills to pay. You have the deck stacked. You have put Colorado in such a hole it's even bigger than the potholes in the highways you can't seem to find the money to fix and the speed bumps you've got running across them. Until this state can take the basic steps of taking care of roads and what government is supposed to do, you have no business in the health industry. You have no business spending any more money until you become a good steward of what you have. Most especially, I do not want my tax money paying to kill children. Any bill that pays Planned Parenthood is killing children with personalities, faces, and futures. These are our future taxpayers. We need to stop killing our own people. We also need to cooperate with our own nation elected by the people of this country. Nationally, we're not going to fund people who break the law or choose to kill children. Colorado would be a better state if we follow the good example.
